

“

If our experience has made us what we are today, it is thanks to the confidence of our customers, which has been our innovative strength for decades.

For us, innovation only makes sense if it generate a concrete added value, if it meets a real need, if it offers a new and tangible result to our customers. SOLYSTIC's end-to-end solutions go in this direction: we like to know what they have concretely brought to end users, what they have optimized in the Supply Chain of companies.

In 2019, this trust has enabled SOLYSTIC to win, for the second time, the Supplier of the Year Award, granted by Parcel & Postal Technology International.

”

Maurizio PUPPO,
Strategy & Business Development Director